Maui's 1st newspaper, and the last major daily in the Islands to be home-owned, until Dec 1999. Politically and socially conservative through the decades: for example, not publishing divorces or suicides. Masthead stated into the 1950s, "A Republican Newspaper."
In-migration of counterculture people in the 1960s and 1970s, principally mainland Caucasians, led in part to the News broadening its views: for example, it advocated that the Navy stop using Kaho'olawe as a bombing target. Today the paper has the Islands' most technologically advanced plant. Local Products Push Started by Ogata Bill

Support in strategic places is shaping up for Senate Bill 780 a key piece of legislation for local manufacturers who are advocating it in the strongest terms.

If the bill passes, state and county agencies will have to specify Hawaii-made products for all public works projects if they match imported items in quality and aren't costlier by more than 5 per cent delivered.

Man's Senator Thomas S. Ogata, who tossed the bill in the hopper without fanfare last week, will give it an early hearing in his Economic Development House committee.

Ogata predicts a sympathetic House reaction for the bill and believes all senators would have signed it had there been time to circulate it fully before the session.

He said Ogata: "It can be done this means get more jobs, get more business going, I'm for it."

Benefits would outweigh any costs involved, he said.

It will bill passes

The state's chief purchase agent will list Hawaii-made products that government units must buy if they cost within 5 per cent more than imports.

Items not made locally but available through dealers will have to be bought from someone in business here at least three months, with the 5 per cent differential applying.

Governor-elect bids, specifically whether materials are locally-made or imported.

Members of a special Hawaii Manufacturers Association committee found in developing the bill that price advantages local producers go as high as 10 per cent elsewhere.

They covered every 100 new hirings in manufacturing create 65 jobs for others and bring $33,000 in new retail sales.

Many industrialists believe the bill could mean up to 200 new manufacturing jobs for Hawaii

Avery Appointed To Executive Post

Allen I. Avery has been appointed executive vice president and general manager of Frazier, Inc., representative for a number of Mainland manufacturers of commercial and household products.

Avery recently left the Honolulu office of Works Co. as manager of its industrial supplies department.

During the last seven years, he held several key executive posts there, including that of corporate secretary.

Charles R. Frazier, Jr., the company's president, announced the appointment.

Modern New Garage Is Being Built For Young Bros.

Young Bros. Ltd. is having a new garage built in California to put into inter-Island service. Men in shipping circles describe the vessel as ultra-modern, with automated equipment to handle cargo.

They also point out that the vessel may well be intended to compete with a $2 million, 2,500-gross-tonnage container vessel that Matson is talking of putting into service here next fall.

Plans call for Matson to use semi-automated vessels only for transshipments of cargo originating on the Mainland.

But there's speculation some quarters that Matson might be tempted to cut into the locally-generated traffic that has for years been Young Bros.' sole mainstay.

If that should happen, it could mean not only competition but would add up to competition with some of the most modern equipment available in maritime service.

All equipment aboard the Matson vessel except a crane on deck will operate automatically by remote control.

The ship will be capable of carrying 750 containers.

It is believed in some quarters that using the vessel for locally-generated cargo may eventually become too attractive a proposition to resist.

Informed sources say Young Bros. expects delivery of the new

TAX TIPS

Your 20 per cent first-year depreciation allowance can be taken on the full cost of equipment, and you needn't reduce the base by investment credit or as claiming.

For instance, if you bought $20,000 worth of machinery last summer, the new 70 per cent investment credit tops $14,000 off your 1962 tax bill and cuts the basis for regular depreciation to $18,600.

But your extra first-year write-off still comes to 20 per cent of $20,000, or 40 per cent of the cost.

Plan-drafting for Nuclear Electric Plant May Be Less than a Year in Future

Hawaii Electric may finalize drawing plans for the Pacific's first nuclear plant even before its newly-contracted-for second conventional unit at Kaneohe Valley starts humming.

Heco just awarded E. E. Black, Inc., a $2.7 million contract to complete that conventional unit by November 1, 1966.

Heco needs to know within a month whether the nuclear plant would cut generating costs and be dependable if it's to make a worthwhile unit out of a plant

A Statement from the Publisher

We can predict that the birth of Pacific Business News will be met with mixed emotions.

We know many Hawaii businessmen who have felt a need for a business-oriented newspaper and will welcome this weekly publication.

We're just aware of the fact that it is a new eyes, ears, and nose, will wonder at this situation attempt to nail into the Crossroads Press, Inc., was formed as an all-firm—with the hope of someday earning a fair return on invested capital.

The directors know that serving a useful purpose for its readers and obtaining results for its advertisers are essential to the success of the publication.

WE BELIEVE we will accomplish both ends through sound business practices and influencing editorial happiness.

Pacific Business News will be a pro-business, but it will not be blind to the weaknesses of business.

General circulation. The 2nd oldest continuously published newspaper in Hawai'i. (The Friend began in 1843.) Founding editor Whitney observed correctly that it is a paper "destined to exert more than an ephemeral influence on . . . our community and nation." Original publication coincided in 1856 with the U.S. 4th of July observance. Except for 1880-1887, when Walter Murray Gibson ran it and supported King Kalākaua and his policies, the PCA was editorially and in its news columns pro-American and pro-annexation. Whitney also began the Daily Bulletin, ancestor of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin.

THE ROACH

TENURE vs CENSURE

What is the Lee case all about? Aside from details of who did what and when, what is its significance for the University? What will it mean if the Regents accept the second Faculty Hearing Committee Report or if they reject it?

THE REAL ISSUES

Chronologically, the first issue is the signing of students to form, express, and be held responsible for their opinions on controversial matters. The administration's apparent E-W Center Grantee Kinnapped, Jailed, News Aid

This is Chen Yu-hsi, former East-West Center grantee and assistant in the UN economics department, while here he made friends with some well known opponents of the Vietnam War.

However, he came from Taiwan, sometimes called "Free China," in place where 75% of the national budget goes to military expenses, anti-war sympathizers are unpopular. Hence, Chen was spied upon here and in Japan where he had been conducting his studies. It is rumored recently that he had been kidnapped and deported from Japan back to Taiwan on Feb. 9th. There he has been imprisoned. According to his landlady, Mrs. Kusura, even his father has been denied permission to see him.

Apparently, it is only his political beliefs that are the source of his detention since he is not a criminal. But his case is not uncommon. A Japanese newspaper describes a round-up of some 130 Taiwanese students to be returned to Taiwan. There are grounds for fearing for Chen's life, but rumor has it that sometimes the Taiwanese government simply locks up suspected opponents without charges to intimidate them into conformity.

The more adamant the refusal of Chinese consular general Johnson Chung-ti Pao to investigate the matter, the greater the credibility for the reports on Chen and the more it is necessary to fear for Chen's safety. The con-parent assumption is that Dr. Lee is responsible for the statement. Students resent this paternalism, convinced that they have never yet come to grips with this question in its professional or the student body. Instead they have focused on Dr. Lee. This issue of student academic freedom brings into question the entire role of faculty advisors. If the community does not like the views expressed by some students, then let them direct their criticisms at the students, not at teachers who neither wrote nor approved the opinions.

Secrecy is the second point. The community was given a good deal of the Administration's evidence right from the start in a radical measure of the statement itself which was published in full in the local press. The incidental and irrelevant facts that had used the department's mimeograph machine to duplicate the statement, suggesting erroneously that he was anxious for its dissemination, and the very public act of President Hamilton resigning as if in righteous indignation. Meanwhile, the evidence supporting Lee's position was bottled up by the initial agreement to keep the case secret, an agreement originating in a request by HAMILTON, not Lee. Why the Administration's own secrecy can be seen in the evidence presented below. Even if it made sense or kept hearings secret while they were in progress, how can the continuance of secrecy as intended by the Administration be justified? In short, why the completed reports not given publicity? It is as if by the hand of a just God that the public have access to these formerly secret documents. The Press has done a major service to democracy in Hawaii by publishing the evidence which convinced the Faculty Hearing Committee of the two main weaknesses in the Administration position: lack of violation of the provision of tenure and violation of the procedure. "The process" is akin to the labor union phrase "grievance procedure" in that makes it possible for persons in subordinate positions to have guaranteed rights that they will not be fired arbitrarily without a fair hearing on the part of the Administration before revoking tenure is the third significant issue. The prolonged hearings
